

LOS & Sons GmbH

JUNIOR PRODUCER / PROJECT MANAGER

(M/F/X)
INNSBRUCK / AUT
FULL TIME

LOS & Sons GmbH is an Innsbruck based company, specialised in winter sports content creation and marketing related projects. You may know us as Legs of Steel.

The position, which we are planning to fill as soon as possible, will demand a hands on mentality in numerous fields of play – from traditional film production and organization, to project and event management. Ideally you will join the rest of the crew by not being able to tell the difference between work and doing what you love.

What awaits you:

- Work with a small team on ski movies, commercial content production for rad clients as well as event and marketing concepts
- Travelling with the production crews
- Remote work and work from our offices in Innsbruck
- Integration into a trusted network of freelancers and partners
- A detailed look behind the curtain of our projects. Learn from 11 years of trial and error - dare to bring something new to our table
- Your role will grow. Learn fast and you can make some of our projects your own!

What will help you to get the job:

- Top level organizational skills. Planning, scheduling and working with a set budget
- Work experience / network in the field of marketing
- Work experience / network in content and film production
- Experiences in MS Office programs (with focus on Excel & PowerPoint)
- Enthusiasm for snowsports
- Fluent in spoken and written English
- Driver's license
- Bonus: Experiences in Adobe Creative Suite
- Bonus: Third language
- Bonus: University degree in marketing / communication / film etc.
- The ability and drive to be working towards long term goals

Payment up for negotiation, depending on qualification and experience.

Say hi and send us your job application until the 8th January 2021.
